

The Course of Empire.

The thesis that "Westward the course of Empire takes its way" for the first time assumes literal form—demands practical recognition from mankind. The full import of the proposition we have no intention of tracing at present. The aphorism that overland and not by sea must the onward rushing tide of humanity flow Westward to the great seat of Empire on the Pacific, has already settled into a household saying. It is quite natural and by no means unreasonable that we of British Columbia should look anxiously forward to a railway running north of the forty-ninth parallel of latitude as the means of peopling the Great West of the new Dominion. Natural, because, as a nation springing into active existence, we cannot be presumed to rely upon foreign avenues. Reasonable, because our own territory presents advantages and facilities for interoceanic communication possessed by no other. It would appear to be one important mission of the young nation to "cast up a highway" to connect the two great oceans. Whether the gigantic enterprise be undertaken by the Dominion alone, or in conjunction with the parent empire, it would appear to be a sine qua non to national success—to national existence on this Continent. The sooner both governments are convinced of this the better it will be for them and for us. That the construction of an overland railway through British territory is a legitimate enterprise to be shared by the parent state cannot, we venture to think, well be questioned. The highest mission, the most important duty of a government is to promote the wellbeing of the subject. How does the account stand with Great Britain? There are at this moment in England alone considerably over one million of Her Britannic Majesty's subjects existing in a condition of pauperism, forming a huge mass of moral and physical disease. Men and women like unto ourselves, with Anglo-Saxon blood in their veins, and Anglo-Saxon words upon their tongues, drag out a miserable existence, clad in rags and steeped to their lips in filth and crime. They bring forth children only that they may become seven-fold more the children of hell than themselves. Cursed themselves, cursed in their bodies, in their souls, in their basket and in their store (the words are figurative, for the miserable wretches have neither basket nor store) they are a curse to all with whom they come in contact. We are reminded of the words of a parody on the Queen's Anthem, once sung on Muswell Hill, one verse of which ran as follows:

"Shall crime breed crime for ever,
Strength and still the strong?
Is it Thy will, O Father!
That man should suffer wrong?
No! say Thy mountains, no! Thy skies,
Men's clouded sun shall brightly rise,
And songs be heard where now are sighs
God save the people!"

This huge blot, this great festering sore upon the face of the foremost nation in the world, costs annually upwards of seventy millions of dollars in an abortive attempt at relief. This is indeed an appalling condition, one which with clarion voice demands national investigation. There must be something radically wrong in the polity of the nation where such a condition exists. And it does indeed appear inexplicably paradoxical that such a phenomenon should present itself in the case of Great Britain,—that the world's Christianizer and liberator should present such a picture at home. The British people have expended millions upon millions piled in seeking to turn heathens into Christians. They have compassed sea and land to carry freedom and civilization to every kindred, and people, and tongue, and nation which God hath placed upon the earth; and yet over a million of their own kith and kin are living in worse than heathendom, are enduring worse than slavery, under their very nose. They go to the uttermost ends of the earth to snatch the fringes of humanity from a mythical hell, when a million of themselves are living in a material hell! Strange inconsistency. The disease is palpable enough. But the cure? It is more than two years since the present writer ventured to suggest that the true cure for England's pauperism was systematic national-assisted emigration. Rankness of growth is the cause of the disorder. Obviously the cure is a process of thinning out the population and transferring to new and unoccupied soil that portion to which the old overcrowded soil of England denies room. What can be clearer than this? And what more fitting than the great Northwest now being thrown open conjointly by the Imperial and Canadian Governments? Let the seventy millions now annually squandered in miserably quackery be employed in carrying out a well digested scheme of opening up the Northwest and conducting the surplus population of the old country into it, and not only will the British tax-payers be relieved of a terrible load, but the nation will be relieved of a disgrace and a crime; thousands upon thousands will be metamorphosed from a condition of the most abject mendicancy into one of independent thrift and happiness; and thus the parent nation will not only be immeasurably benefited and blessed at home, but will reproduce itself on this continent. What could be more worthy of Great Britain than to make a new nation, a second self, so to speak, out of material now going to waste—going to perdition!

Fatal Procrastination.

It is far from agreeable employment to be chiding those in authority for dereliction of duty; but when great public interests are involved the public journalist must not shrink from duty because it happens to be disagreeable. Our iterations about the duty of the Government in regard to the opening up of facile communication with our Southern goldfields are based upon the conviction of the great importance of the work. Scarcely less than half the mining interests of the Colony now exist on its Southern rim; yet, for the mere want of the most ordinary means of communication, it might as well be on the banks of the Hooghly, save in so far as the trifling duty collected upon the trade across the boundary-line is concerned. It was clearly shown by figures, which it is said do not lie, that the supplies for our Southern goldfields have already paid as much freight in passing through a foreign channel as would suffice to construct a road through our own territory which would put foreign competition out of the question! If this be so, and there is no reason to doubt it, what utter folly has our Government been guilty of? If this be true, how absolutely wicked on the part of the Government to procrastinate month after month and season after season. Just look at the facts:—The present trail—the only trail we have—the trail which, through the grossest mismanagement, cost the Colony little if any short of seventy thousand dollars, and which, in point of real practical value is probably not worth as many cents, is to a very limited extent used by spirited traders, who are loath to altogether abandon British Columbia as the proper base of supply for British Columbian miners. But those who have the praiseworthy pertinacity to use this trail are compelled to make a detour through American Territory in order to reach our own mines; and for this unspeakable privilege they have to pay a tax to a foreign country of three dollars for each animal every trip! Is this the way to build up the Colony? Is this the encouragement that energetic British merchants are to expect from the Government of a British Colony? But even this is only half the tale. Owing to the existing condition of things, forcing nearly all the traffic away round by the mouth of the Columbia river, the great bulk of that trade has been lost to our merchants, and has, of course, fallen into the hands of our neighbours. We appeal to the Government, we implore the Executive to put an immediate termination to a condition at once so subversive of the Colony and so derogatory to the reputation of a British community.

Editorial Notes.

When a patient who has long been sick hears of a new physician, reputed to be very skilful in treating his disease, there is a new impulse for a moment given to his vitality, and that sanguine spirit, which seldom deserts us while we live, springs up for the new experiment. This Colony may be regarded as a patient who has long been sick, and whose anxious eyes are now turned to "Doctor Musgrave," the physician who enjoys the reputation of being very skilful in the treatment of the disease under which it has been languishing for years. Let us hope this new physician will have the nerve as well as the skill to cut out the cancer, root and branch!

The Chamber of Commerce have, we understand, prepared an address for presentation to Governor Musgrave upon the arrival of His Excellency in the Colony. We have not had an opportunity of perusing the document, but have reason to believe it urges the importance of an interoceanic railway and a Free Port on the Pacific, as conditions essential to general and local well-being, under Confederation. In this the Chamber will have but given form to general public sentiment throughout the United Colony. There are, of course, a few persons here and there who entertain opposite opinions; but absolute oneness of opinion upon this or any other public question is a condition not to be expected in any community, and, perhaps, least of all, in this. The gentlemen composing the Address Committee have done well to content themselves with presenting these two fundamentals to future prosperity, and avoiding the too common mistake of drifting into mere details.

In November of 1866, Mr Seward wrote to Mr Motley, the eminent historian of the Netherlands, and at that time United States Ambassador at the Court of Vienna. The letter asserted that a United States citizen, resident in Paris, had written to the President to say that most of the United States' Ministers abroad were bitterly hostile to the Administration. Of Mr Motley, in particular, this was asserted: "He adds, that you do not pretend to conceal your disgust, as he says you style it, at the President's whole conduct; that you despise American democracy, and loudly proclaim that an English gentleman is no model of human perfection; that the President has deserted his pledges and principles in common with Mr Seward, who, you say, is hopelessly degraded. Your denial, or affirmation of the truth of these reports is requested." Mr Motley, of course, replied, in a very dignified manner, that his personal views had been hostile to the President's policy, and that in his own private house they had been expressed, and that he had never conceived that he was deprived of the right of having and expressing private opinions by his official position. Of course, he denied the silly and violent expressions imputed to him, and resigned his post.

British Colonist.—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Mr Ching Fun of the city, next door to Kwong Lee & Co. For 21 years I suffered with neuralgia of the brain, which boiled the skull of three fistfuls American physicians. Latterly bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became awfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I placed myself as a last resort in the hands of Mr Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen who are afflicted may visit him and find relief. Respectfully,

Very Important from Kootenay.

The arrival of a packer from Kootenay, via Forts Shepherd and Hope, yesterday, places us in possession of very important intelligence from that locality—important as indicating universal well-being on the part of the miners in the face of very serious obstacles left to impede their progress by the inaction of the Colonial Government. On the original Kootenay, or Wild Horse Creek diggings, about 300 men are at work, doing well—in many cases making above wages. On Perry Creek, there are an equal number of miners at work, many of whom are taking out excellent pay. Some of the companies are sinking shafts to reach the bed rock, where, it is expected, great gold deposits will be found. Should large pay be obtained on the bed-rock, at least 3000 miners will rush to the diggings before the winter sets in. It is estimated that already 1,000,000 lbs of gold have been imported into these diggings from Portland, Oregon. All this trade might be secured to Victoria, were it not for the shockingly bad state of the trail. Goods can be bought at Victoria thirty per cent. cheaper than at Portland; but the state of the roads through British Columbia, and the detour American territory before reaching Kootenay, add to immensely to their cost as to preclude the possibility of profit, except upon a certain line of goods. Another drawback to prosperity is the fact that there is neither a resident Magistrate nor a J. P. in the district. Mr. O'Reilly stayed three weeks in the diggings last summer, and since then no Court has been held in the district. The effect upon the trade and morality of a community where debts cannot be recovered or offences punished, may easily be imagined. Mr. Johnston, the Kootenay expressman, is expected to arrive at Victoria in a few days when we look for more circumstantial accounts of matters at the diggings.

THE MUNICIPAL POUND BY-LAW.—This by-law has been finally approved by the Administrator, and is now in force. It provides for the impounding of swine, goats, horses, horned cattle and dogs found at large and straying within the limits of the city; and declares such animals to be a nuisance. A public pound will be established and a pound keeper appointed, and all animals of the description named (excepting dogs wearing license-tags) found at large or straying in any public way, street, thoroughfare or unenclosed land within the city limits, will be impounded and advertised, and a fine not exceeding the sum of $2 may be levied or collected on or in respect of each animal impounded, as well as the expense of keeping the same, not exceeding the sum of 25 cents for each pig, goat or dog, and 50 cents for each horse or horned cattle, each day; the amount of the fine ($2) imposed on the owner of a dog to be credited to the owner of the animal in lieu of the city-tax due thereon. If not claimed and charges paid thereon within seven days after advertisement, the animals so impounded will be sold at public auction, on Wednesday and Saturday in each week, the balance on hand accruing from such sale, after deducting fine and charges, to be handed over to the owners of the animals sold. Any dog offered for sale and not disposed of will be destroyed. The by-law is much needed here, and its provisions should be vigorously enforced.

EQUIMALT SCHOOL DISTRICT.—A very numerous attended meeting of freeholders and resident householders of the Equimalt School District was held on Thursday evening, in the School-room of Equimalt Town, William Fisher, Esq., in the chair. A long and interesting debate arose upon the school Ordinance, which, in the opinion of many present, is not suited to the wants of the District. It was finally "Resolved, that a voluntary subscription and tuition fees be adopted for raising the necessary funds for educational purposes in the said district, under the Ordinance 1869; and that the funds raised and expenses incurred for the respective schools of Craigflower and Equimalt Town be kept distinct." Applications from Mr. C. N. Young and wife, Mr. Harrison, Mrs. Fisher, of Equimalt, and Dr. Guthrie, for the situation of teachers, were read and action deferred. Two schools will be maintained in the district—one at Equimalt Town and the other at Craigflower.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE AGRICULTURAL and Horticultural Society commenced the collection of subscriptions yesterday. We hope that there will be no holding back on the part of those able to subscribe towards an object so intimately connected with the advancement of our productive interests as this. From indications which we observe in the agricultural districts, the forthcoming show will be the most interesting ever held here. All that is wanted is a generous response on the part of citizens applied to by the subscription committee to insure complete success.

A home missionary was asked the cause of his poverty. "Principally," he replied, "because I have preached so much without notes."

County Court.

Before His Honor A. F. Pemberton.

FRIDAY, August 6th.

J. Sandwith vs. A. Bunker.—This was an action brought against the defendant for goods sold and delivered, amounting to sum of $54.50. The defence was that the goods had been bought from Mr. Harris, of Cowichan, and that at the time the defendant purchased the goods Harris was indebted to the defendant in the sum of $300, and that he did not know the plaintiff to be the maker. Judgment for the defendant.

The mountain-pyrotechnics in the forests of Washington Territory showed with much distinctness last evening. The flames shot up to a great height, and to an observer standing on Government street, the scene of conflagration appeared to be at no greater distance from the city than Ogden Point. The range of mountains in which these great fires are raging is removed at least 30 miles from Victoria, and the extent of a conflagration visible at so great a distance may be imagined. The injury inflicted upon the timber lands of the adjoining territory is incalculable.

LEECH RIVER.—Mr. Petersen from Leech river reports hydraulic operations at a standstill for want of water. Our informant and Mr. White worked with rookers sixteen days on a piece of ground on Wolf Creek, and took out $5 a day to the land. Having worked out that piece they have turned their attention to another strip on Leech river, which promises well. Surely, where such results as these are obtained, there must be richer and more extensive deposits close at hand.

The farmers of Cowichan, Salt Spring and Chemainus have formed themselves into an Agricultural Society and propose to hold an Exhibition of live stock, cereals, grasses, vegetables, fruit, and dairy produce on the 22nd of September. Like the Saanich Agricultural Show, this Exhibition is intended as an auxiliary to the grand show at Victoria on the 29th of the same month, for which most extensive preparations are being made.

Four of Mr. Boshell's mammoth cucumbers, placed in a line, measure seventy inches! We have seen them, measured them, tasted them—and can vouch for their length as well as their excellence. Nearly six feet of cucumber! Just think of it! It wouldn't take a very large number of such mammoths to reach from end to end of James Bay bridge.

WASH.—The Tigers had their muscle-machine out for practice last evening. The old engine worked satisfactorily; but it was quite plain to all present, that in a contest between muscle and steam the former must go to the wall.

THE TULFAR.—No tidings of this steamer up to the hour of going to press this morning. It is believed that she has gone on to Olympia, in which event she is not due here until to-day.

Get out your bite of smoked glass at noon to-day and prepare for the solar eclipse. According to Mr. Homfray's calculation, it is due here at 1:20 p. m., and will end at 2:38 p. m.

THE Caledonia Benevolent Association last evening voted for the relief of Mrs Greenwood, $50.

Golden Chicken Rules.

The following are some rules that it would be well to observe in rearing chickens: 1. Keep the chicks in a warm, clean, dry coop. 2. Don't let them run out in the morning until the sun has removed the dew from the grass. 3. Let them have plenty of food and fresh water. 4. The coop must be rat proof. 5. Don't let the chicks have access to slops or stagnant water. 6. See that they are housed when a storm is threatening.

Rules for keeping the henhouse in proper order: 1. Clean out every day, and sprinkle a handful of lime. 2. Sprinkle ashes over the floor two or three times a week. 3. Frequently change the straw or hay forming the nests, and whitewash the nest boxes at every renewal, and twice a year thoroughly whitewash the whole interior of the house.

Rules for the management of setting hens: 1. Set the hen in a place where she will not be disturbed. 2. Give a large hen twelve or thirteen eggs, a medium-sized one ten or eleven, a small one eight or nine. 3. Don't let the hen come out of the setting room until she has hatched, but keep her supplied with gravel, food and water. 4. When the chicks are hatched leave them in the nest for the first eight or ten hours. 5. Don't meddle with the eggs during incubation; turning them once a day, and all such foolishness, is apt to prevent the eggs from hatching.

The Pall Mall Gazette says that there has been a recent discovery in the Department of la Dordogne of human skeletons coeval with the mammoths and undeniably appertaining to the earliest quaternary period, and which present features of such unusual interest that the French Government have sent M. Lartet, the distinguished palaeontologist, to make a report on the subject. He reports that the bones of skeletons have been discovered, and that they belong to some gigantic race, whose limbs, both in size and form, must have resembled those of the gorilla. But the stigmata of man must not be inferred from these analogies, as the skulls of which only three are perfect, afford testimony fatal to this theory, having evidently contained very voluminous brains. The skulls are now in the hands of a committee of savants, who are preparing an exhaustive craniological report.

A home missionary was asked the cause of his poverty. "Principally," he replied, "because I have preached so much without notes."

Wilkes Booth—His Treatment of a Bust of Lincoln.

In the winter of 1862 or 1863, says the St. Louis Dispatch, J. Wilkes Booth, the assassin, was playing a star engagement at Ben De Bar's Opera House in this city. Coming down one morning to rehearsal, he had occasion to enter a picture gallery and artist emporium for the purpose of procuring some paint or face-dye, either for himself or some other of the actors. After purchasing what he wanted, he was retiring from the store when his eye caught a plaster bust of President Lincoln, which was being exhibited for sale. The sight of it appeared to arouse his indignation, and to stir him up to a high degree of rage, so much so indeed that he cursed both it and its original in the most violent strains. He worked himself into such a passion that, walking over to the bust, he struck it a violent blow in the face, knocking off a piece from over its eyes, and so severely injuring his own hand that it bled profusely, and he was obliged to wrap a handkerchief around it.

No notice was taken of the act, and Booth left the store for the theatre, the owner of the bust picking up the fragments which had been knocked off, and gluing it on so dexterously that the injury done it could not be detected.

Years passed on, and one morning in April the country was shaken to its centre as no other piece of intelligence had ever shaken it before—that the President had been shot in Ford's Theatre, in Washington, by J. Wilkes Booth. The nation went into mourning for its Chief Magistrate, and, wherever his remains could not be actually honored, mock funerals were held. Such a funeral was kept in St. Louis; the city went into mourning, and the Court House was draped with black. A bust of the President was placed in the Court House, and it was observed that from over one of the eyes a piece of the material had been broken off. This bust was the same one which Booth had mutilated, and the piece which was at the same time replaced was afterwards removed when the same hand that struck it off struck down its original.

An English correspondent says that thorough sportsman and fine gentleman, Lord Westmoreland, did not appear at Tattersall's on either Monday or Tuesday, and it is now known that he is completely stunned up, the only wonder is that he has held on so long, for he had no money worth speaking of when he commenced his turf career, and he has had no opportunity of amassing any since. He has always maintained a large and expensive stud, he has raced perpetually, he has never done plugging, and though he frequently won his losses must have been enormous. A friend of mine well acquainted with him told me the other day that Lord Westmoreland required to make £30,000 a year on the turf to keep going at all. Very likely he did something of this sort once, but he could not go on at that game for ever. Epson was the last straw that broke the camel's back, for there he lost a lot of races when his horses were backed for thousands. He was a very fine judge of horse-flesh, and his experience in racing was great. The aristocrats are dropping off indeed from the turf, and if this state of things continues much longer we shall have none left at all. It is said that arrangements will be made to satisfy his racing creditors, who do not seem anxious about their money. The bookmakers ought not to be hard on him, for he has been a rare customer for them, and it will be remembered that he got Lord Hastings to enter into an engagement to pay their demands when there was some prospect of their claims being scouted. Many were surprised to find that, after all, the Duke of Newcastle's racing debts were paid, and many wondered where the money came from, seeing that it was generally believed that the "financier agent," Padwick, had "dried up." The truth is, that his Grace's mother-in-law has once more consented to clear him from his liabilities, but only on condition that he gives up racing entirely and goes abroad.

The London Times gives the following description of the House of Lords on the evening of the debate on the second reading of the Irish Church Bill:—"The House of Lords was the centre of attraction yesterday evening. Its galleries were thronged with the wives and daughters of Peers; its benches were thronged with Peers themselves; the steps of the Throne were covered with their eldest sons and members of the Privy Council; and at the Bar a considerable portion of the House of Commons were collected, justly disregarding Mr. Thomas Chambers' amendment to the Endowed Schools Bill. Even this did not exhaust the manifestations of interest in the debate. The Strangers' Gallery must have been filled at an early hour. The corridors were crowded with competitors for seats which were already filled, and a small band of enthusiastic persons congregated at the Peers' entrance in Old Palace-yard, and cheered such members of the House of Lords as they recognized, without, so far as could be discovered, any distinction of party or principle. Everything testified to a general feeling that a memorable passage of history was about to be transacted, though throughout it all there was a comfortable assurance, which few perhaps could especially justify, but on which the vast majority confidently relied, that all danger of serious agitation had passed away."

The wife of a Mr. Pope Grey, of Ballenlough House, about four miles from Cork city, was walking in the shrubbery, when she suddenly saw four men pass round the corner of the house and rush into the hall, the door of which had been left open. She quickly returned, and perceived three of them go into the servants' apartments, and the fourth into the sitting room, where Mr. Grey, who suffers from paralysis of the lower limbs, reclined in an easy chair. When the ruffian entered he presented a revolver at Mr. Grey, demanding firearms. Mr. Grey expostulated, when Mr. Grey came in and besought him not to shoot her husband, at the same time getting alongside Mr. Grey and putting a revolver in his hand. Mr. Grey at once fired at his assailant, the ball grazing his forehead, and again fired, wounding the man mortally in the left groin. He staggered and fell in the hall, his pistol going off at the same instant. The firing alarmed his confederates, who retreated through the hall and as they left the outer door Mrs. Grey fired after them. The police were sent for and identified the wounded man as a person named Campbell, a warder in a private lunatic asylum in the neighborhood of Mr. Grey's residence, whose mother is keeper at a public asylum. He refused to disclose the names of his associates and has since died.

Mr. Seth Green is engaged in restocking the Hudson with fish. In the eighty boxes there are daily hatched 100,000 to 2,000,000 fish. The present operations are carried on just below Castleton.

Thirlwall, Bishop of St. David's, stands pre-eminent amongst the distinguished members of the English hierarchy; and those who read in the cable telegrams that he voted for disestablishment of the Irish Church, saw in the fact nothing surprising or unexpected. But the speech with which the great historian supported his vote is one of the most remarkable that has been delivered on this subject, occupying as it did the minds of some of the first of the English statesmen. Hardly a clerical advocate of the Irish Church has ventured on an argument stronger than "Sacrilege!" or, "Will you rob the Lord of His inheritance?" But Thirlwall laughs at this. He reminds his clerical brethren that this idea of properly belonging to the Lord, as if He had no need of it, was neither Christian, nor even Judaic, but simple and pure leathenism. He further reminds them that St. Ambrose was once accused by the Arians of sacrilege. And why? Because he sold the vessels of silver and gold which the faithful had presented to the altar, and with the proceeds he released the captives of his flock from their barbarous masters. Of a class with this sacrilege was that of the disestablishment of the Irish Church.

At an inquest held the other day respecting the death of a clerk in the employment of the Great Northern Railway Company, it was stated that the deceased had for the last two months been studying a book on diet, and, following the instructions given in the book, he fed himself upon less than a pint of gruel a day. The consequence was that from a robust man he became reduced to a mere skeleton, and one morning was found dead in his bed. The jury returned a verdict of "Death from congestion of the brain from the want of sufficient nourishment."

Some young tourists, traveling on horseback among the White Mountains, became inordinately thirsty and stopped for milk at a house by the wayside. They emptied every basin that was offered and still wanted more. The woman of the house at length brought an enormous bowl of milk and set it down on the table, saying, "One would think, gentlemen, that you had never been weaned."

Australian papers state that his Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh would leave New Zealand in May for Fiji, and afterwards visit Tahiti and the Sandwich Islands. He is to reach Japan in August, to visit China in September and October. Singapore and Penang in November, arriving at Calcutta before the end of the year. In April, 1870, it appears, he proposes to be in Ceylon, at Mauritius in May, the Cape of Good Hope in part of June and July, and at St. Helena in August.

A really inspired genius, a man in Kentucky, has found a way to induce crows to commit suicide. He strings several grains of corn on a horse hair, which, when swallowed, causes a tickling sensation in the crow's throat. In his efforts to get it up, the crow invariably scratches his head off.

DIRECTIONS FOR USING KANE'S IMPERIAL CONDENSED SOAP.—1st. For an ordinary washing (from three to four dozen pieces) dissolve one-eighth pound of soap in sufficient boiling water to cover well your white clothes and let them soak thirty minutes, stirring them occasionally. If the water is hard use a little more soap.

2nd. When soaked, wring them out, rub a little soap upon the soiled parts, and put them into the boiler with sufficient water to boil them, having first dissolved one-eighth pound of soap in the water, and boil them ten or fifteen minutes, then suns them well, in warm water and rinse in cold water, blue and hang out to dry.

3rd. Should there be any articles not thoroughly cleansed, rub the soiled places with a little soap, and replace them in the boiler and boil a few minutes longer.

4th. For colored or woolen clothes use the same as common soap.

BUY IT AND TRY IT.—Russell's celebrated coffee. The best on the Coast. Warranted a pure and healthful beverage.

What is Tonic?

Bear this in mind,—that although a tonic is, to a certain extent, a stimulant, it is not a stimulant, and any medicinal substance, is not a tonic, but a stimulant. In HOLLWAY'S STOMACH BITTERS there is a stimulating element of the purest grade manufactured in this or any other country. Every fiery and corrosive oil or acid which contaminates the ordinary liquors of commerce, is expelled from the rye spirit which forms the alcoholic basis of the BITTERS, by careful and repeated rectification. The juices of the valuable roots, barks and herbs, infused into this wholesome product of the finest grain, still further modify its nature; so that it becomes in fact, a simple diffusive agent, minus all the heady and brain exciting properties which belong, more or less, to all liquors in a raw state. It is merely the safe and harmless vehicle which renders the medicinal virtues of the preparation effective,—increasing their active power, and diffusing them through the system. Hence the pleasant and gentle glow which is experienced after taking a dose of the BITTERS. Instead of creating headache, as unmedicated stimulants are apt to do, this salutary tonic is the best known remedy for that complaint. It cures indigestion, dyspepsia, gout, rheumatism, HOLLWAY'S Tonic gives the greatest comfort by reducing the inflammation, cooling the blood, soothing the nerves, adjusting the circulation, and expelling the impurities. This Tonic should have a place in every nursery. It will cure the long list of skin affections which originate in childhood and gain strength with the child's growth.

HOLLWAY'S OINTMENT.—Turn which way you will, go where you please, persons will be found who have a ready word of praise for this Ointment. For chaps, chafes, sea-ir, bruises and sprains, it is an invaluable remedy; for bad legs caused by accident or cold it may be confidently relied upon for effecting a sound and permanent cure. In cases of swollen glands, erysipelas, gonorrhea, rheumatism, HOLLWAY'S Ointment gives the greatest comfort by reducing the inflammation, cooling the blood, soothing the nerves, adjusting the circulation, and expelling the impurities. This Ointment should have a place in every nursery. It will cure the long list of skin affections which originate in childhood and gain strength with the child's growth.

FROM BRAZIL.
A young and lovely daughter of a Brazilian nobleman in Rio de Janeiro, acknowledging receipt of a case of Mr. J. A. Laxton's Laxative, says: "I have used 22 bottles of Bristol's Laxative, with occasional doses of Bristol's Pills and have not had a single stool for over two years, and feel stronger and in better health than I ever was before."

Scrofulous Sores Healed!
"Mr. R. S. Johnston, of Marysville, Cal., says: 'Ever since my childhood I have been a great sufferer from running scrofulous sores. In the spring of 1865 I used 22 bottles of Bristol's Laxative, with occasional doses of Bristol's Pills and have not had a single stool for over two years, and feel stronger and in better health than I ever was before.'

A Revolution in Medicine.—It is not a gilded pill to delight the eye or please the fancy, but it is a true medicine placed in the hands of the people for their relief, and no person can take it according to the directions, and remain long unwell. It may seem incredible that many cases considered hopelessly incurable, have been frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to the cures it has made. Such is Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters, a safe harmless remedy. Buy it, try it and be cured.

French Medicines.

PREPARED BY

GRIMAULT & CO.

Chemists to H.I.H. Prince Napoleon

PARIS.

These different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of Chemistry and Therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the Faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from the numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized for sale. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellence of Messrs. Grimault & Co.'s medicines.

DOCTOR LERAS'

(Doctor of Medicine.)

LIQUID PHOSPHATE OF IRON.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of Chlorosis, Paley, in the Stomach, General Debility and Puerperal Blood. It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under every kind of debility whatever. It is the preservative of health and excellence, in all warm and relaxing climates.

NO MORE COD LIVER OIL!

Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the Hospital of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for Cod Liver Oil and has been found most beneficial in Diseases of the Chest, Scrofula, Lymphatic Disorders, Green Sickness, Muscular Atrophy, and Loss of Appetite. It regenerates the constitution in purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results in Diseases of the Skin. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to Humors and Obstructions of the Glands.

CONSUMPTION CURED!

Grimault's Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of Consumption and other Diseases of the Lungs. It promptly removes the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N.B.—Be sure to see that the signature of Grimault & Co. is affixed to the bottle, as this Syrup is liable to imitations.

MORE DIFFICULT OR PAINFUL DIGESTION!

DR. BURIN DU BUISSON'S

(Laureate of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine)

DIGESTIVE LOZENGES

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France in cases of derangement of the digestive organs, such as Gastritis, Long and Laborious Digestion, Wind in the Stomach and Bowels, Emaciation, Jaundice, and all Maladies of the Liver & Lungs.

NERVOUS HEADACHE, NEURALGIA, DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, INSTANTLY CURED BY

Grimault's Guarana.

This vegetable substance, which grows in the Brazils has been employed since time immemorial to cure inflammation of the Bowels. It has proved to be of the greatest service in cases of Cholera, as it is a preventive and a cure in cases of Diarrhoea.

GRIMAULT & Co.'s

Syrup of Ferruginous Peruvian Bark.

Chemists to H. I. H. Prince Napoleon, 43 rue Richelieu, Paris.

This preparation has the great advantage of combining two most powerful tonics known in the medical world. It perfectly imitates and agrees with the taste, this Syrup is taken with pleasure and suits the most delicate stomachs. It is a powerful tonic and the FERRUGINOUS TONIC which should be administered to ladies of delicate constitution, a few years backward in attaining the age of puberty and to children of a weak constitution, and is particularly employed in the treatment of Chlorosis, Anaemia, Pale Complexion, Blisters, Gastritis, Whites, Leucorrhoea, Debility, Want of Appetite, Poverty of Blood, &c.

No more Dyspepsia, Vomiting during Pregnancy, or Sea Sickness.

GRIMAULT'S SLIXIR OF PEPSINE.

Pepsine undergoes no alteration in this delicious preparation. It will consequently be preferred to Pepsine Powders or Pills. It is the digestive medicine par excellence and is at the same time a most agreeable table liquor.

Messrs. Grimault beg to call the attention of the Faculty and the public in general to the fact that real pepsine is prepared in France alone. It is far superior to all others often extracted from the stomach of swine.

NO MORE COPAIBA OR CUBES!

Grimault's Capsules and Liquid Extract of Maicao Vegetalis.

Where all other preparations have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. These insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe recent and chronic cases of private diseases. They are used in the hospitals of Paris and the celebrated Dr. Blandin, and found to be superior to all other known mineral remedies and Copal and Cubes. The Injection is used in recent, and capsules in chronic cases.

SYRUP AND LOZENGES OF SAP OF SEA PINE.

Prepared by Lacaze, Chemist, at Bordeaux, possesses the balsamic and tonic Properties of the Sea Pine. It is employed with success against affections of the Chest, Cold, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Influenza, Hooping Cough, &c.

In Victoria—Messrs. LANGLEY & CO.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

OF THE

CITY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Will be Open to the Public at 11 a.m. 14th September, 1869.

THE BOARD OF MANAGERS

announce that the Seventh Industrial Exhibition will be open at above, in the spacious Exhibition Building erected on Union Square, in the City of San Francisco, and no pains will be spared to make it complete in all its details.

The Building is water proof, well ventilated, and lighted (at night by 1500 gas jets); is provided with tables for exhibitors' use and has a line of shafting 200 feet long provided with necessary pulleys and ample steam power to exhibit working machinery, and covers an area of 90,000 feet.

The lines of telegraph wires will be connected in the building, where also, will be the Postoffice and Express Company's box, and a free Band will discourse music every evening, and afternoon, and the visitor will find ample provision for his comfort in every particular.

The various Hotels are making extensive preparation to accommodate visitors at moderate rates during the Exhibition season; and the Board of Managers will, through an agent, extend all information to strangers seeking accommodations during their stay in the city at this period.

There is no charge to exhibitors (except ticket of admission) and exhibitors are notified that applications for space must be received before August 28th, or space cannot be definitely assigned.

Articles intended for exhibition must be in the building by Saturday, 19th September, and no article can enter for competition unless in position by that time.

Rules and Regulations, Figures, and Plans will be forwarded on application at the rooms of the Mechanics' Institute, 29 Post Street, San Francisco, or by addressing J. H. GILLMORE, Corresponding Secretary, same address.

Articles from the country must be marked distinctly, "For the Seventh Industrial Exhibition, San Francisco, California." Care J. H. Gillmore, Corresponding Secretary. jyl5 law

GUNPOWDER.

Fresh from the Mills of

THE CALIFORNIA POWDER WORKS.

Extract from Report of Committee of Judges on Class 5 in the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of the California Mechanics' Institute, 1868.

Your Committee did not subject to proof the same of powder exhibited at the Fair, but went to the different magazines, and themselves selected samples selected from packages deemed for trade.

The various samples thus obtained, embracing Sporting, Cannon, Musket and Blasting Powder, were subjected to divers proofs, the chief of which, and that upon which we most relied, was with the "Epruvette" mortar charged with 1 ounce of powder and a twenty-four pound ball.

After many days consumed in careful experiments—some which we feel best not to disclose, because of the great interest felt in the question both by the competing parties and the public—and after careful comparison of the results obtained, we found that all the powder submitted to test was of excellent quality. We also found that the superiority, on the whole, rested with the California Powder Works, and therefore recommend an award of a gold medal to that company, and a silver medal to the Pacific Powder Mills.

Signed,

JOHN J. HALEY, HENRY J. PIPPY, Committee.

Coughs, Colds, Rheumatism, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, and Fever.

THE "TIMES," OF INDIA, STATES that the discovery of Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is a greater blessing to the human race than even the discovery of Vaccination. This remedy is invaluable in the above diseases, and is indicated in all cases of Cholera, Typhoid, and other febrile affections.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davern, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne.—See "Lancet," December 31, 1864.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Extract from "Medical Times," January 12, 1866—"Is pre- parated by scores of orthodox medical practitioners. Of course it would not be this remedy, but it is singularly popular did it not 'supply a want and fill a place'."

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE is the best and most certain remedy in Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Consumption, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, &c.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.—Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in cholera. "So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

From A. Montgomery, Esq., into Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: "Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eleven months' severe suffering, and when all other medicines had failed."

It is necessary to warn the public against spurious imitations, which only bear the name, and are deficient of the true proportion of the only genuine, viz: DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S, as was proved before Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood, in the Court of Chancery, in the case of Browne vs. Freeman, when the Vice-Chancellor stated that the story of Freeman being the inventor was DELIBERATELY UNTRUE.

Sold in Bottles, in 1 1/2, 2s. 6d., 4s. 6d., and 11s., by the Sole Manufacturers, J. T. DAVERN, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.
